

I am a tree stump in a healthy forest area.
Tall trees stand around me, and green grass and plants cover the ground.
The forest is peaceful and full of life.

Then something dangerous happened.
A fire spread through the forest and destroyed many trees and plants.
I can see smoke, burnt soil and plants.

After the fire, the forest looked completely different.
Around me, many trees were gone and the ground looked empty and dry.
Only a few plants were still growing.

D 2024

I am the same tree stump, but now the forest is beginning to recover.
New plants, grass and small trees are all around me.
Nature is coming back after the fire.
